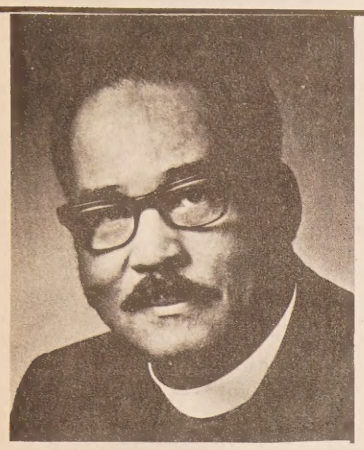
BISHOP J.O.patterson , One Of 100 Most Influential Blacks



Bishop J O. Patterson,
Presiding Bishop
Of Churches Of God In Christ, Inc

He has been noted once again by the leading Black Media, Ebony magazine as one of the 100 most influential black men in the U S , but his disciples or followers proclaim him to be the most influential black leader in the Christian World.

There are more than 5 million black pentecostal believers in the U S., the C.O.G.I.C proclaims to have Three point, five-tenth million of that number and many more caucasions and other penetecostal believers who look to him for leadership and promenade santification and true holiness. They also follow his leadership in selecting other leaders especially those of the minority and those that have concern for the poor and needy

The C.O G I.C. were one of the first national organization to endorse the Rev. Jessie Jackson for president by the request of its president and presiding Bishop J O. Patterson, D D.

MESA-A New Program For Minorities

MESA, a national program that encourages minority students to consider science-related careers, has been expanded to Tacoma, according to local project director Amadeo Tiam.

Tiam, the director of minority affairs at Pacific Lutheran University, said that a major goal of the program is to acquaint students with opportunities in the sciences and mathematics early enough for them to begin academic preparations for them.

MESA (Mathematics, Engineering, Science Achievement) is a co-operative effort involving PLU and Tacoma Public Schools It has been funded through September by a $10,000 grant from the National Science Foundation.

During the school year an after-school MESA course is being offered at Lincoln High School in which students from Mount Tahoma High School are also participating. Besides science orientation, the course includes career counseling and field trips to local science-related industries.

In addition, a two-week summer enrichment course will be offered at PLU July 25-Aug. 3 Subject matter will relate to high school studies and projects for the coming year will be suggested.

"MESA seeks to encourage minority students to acquire the academic skills they need to major in mathematics, engineering or the physical sciences at a university," Tiam said

Both present and future funding is administered through the MESA Regional Center at the University of Washington, Tiam indicated.

Future monies are expected from both the state and private resources

The program began in California in 1970 with 25 students There are presently more than 25,000 enrolled nationwide

Oneida Battle is the program coordinator at PLU. For more information, call 535-7195.

The soviets Unions decission not to compete in the 1984 Summer Olympics, threw plans in a turmoil Peter Ueberroty, President of the Los Angles Olympics organizing is not so sure the answers a definite No, he says "its a poker game, we're not going to give up

The soviets accused the USA of allowing "extremist organization "to crete "unbearable conditions" for athletes This was in reference to groups planning to demonstrate at the games and urge Soviets athletes to defect.

Some are saying if the Soviets decision stands, what about future games?

Among the sports most affected is basketball, in which the USA and soviets are affected, George Raveling, assistant to Olympic Coach Bobby Knight, said "This saddens me that we've

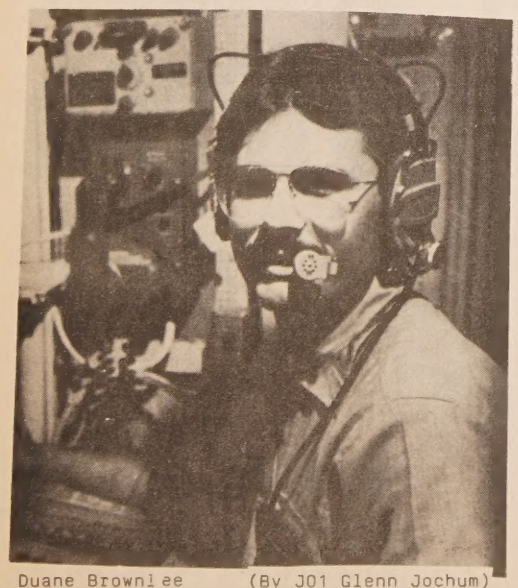
White House spokesman Larry Speakes said the USA had "gone the last mile" to bring about Soviet participation at the games

The pull out shocked and disappointed many USA athletes,

Tacoma Native Participates In Team Spirit



Duane Brownlee (By JO1 Glenn Jochum)

To the folks back home Team Spirit sounds like something the local team should have, To Navyman Duane Brownlees, a Tacoma, Wash , native, it's a military exercise complete with a spectacular beach landing

The son of Leslie and Elaine Brownlee is an air traffic controller aboard the Seventh Fleet amphibious assault ship USS Belleau Wood (LHA-3). As such, he aids in directing the movement of helicopters assigned to the san Diego-based ship.

Amphibious landings are a part of naval that predates Julius Caesar The amphibious assault was used by the Egyptians and later by the Greeks in 1200 B C during the Trojan War. In World War II it proved enormously effective at Normandy and was used successfully at Inchon during the Korean Conflict

"Moving the assault to the beach via helicopter is the quickest and best way available," said the petty officer second class "This is the most important part of the exercise "

"I feel that exercises such as Team Spirit are necessary as the recent actions in Lebanon and Grenada show All personnel involved should be able to conduct an assault to the best of their ability should the need arise.

Team Spirit is the type of training needed to maintain this readiness "

The highlight of Team Spirit for the Navy is the amphibious beach landing which takes place on D-Day. Months of planning climax in 45 minutes of fury as American and South korean Marines charge ashore at a remote beach on the Republic of Korea's east coast

ISAIAH 53: 1& 2

Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

For he shall grow up before him as a root out of dry ground.

He hath no form nor comiliness: and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

WORDS OF WISDOM
II KINGS 2:1-11

AND it came to pass, when the Lord would take up Elijah into heaven by a whirlwind, that Elijah went with Elisha from Gilgal.

And Elijah said into Elisha, Tarry here, I pray thee, for the Lord hath sent me to Bethel. And Elisha said unto him, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they went down to Bethel.

And the sons of the prophets that were at Bethel came forth to Elisha, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Lord will take away thy master from thy head to-day? And he said, Yea, I know it; hold ye your peace.

And Elijah said unto him, Elisha, tarry here, I pray thee; for the Lord hath sent me to Jericho. ANd he said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they came to Jericho.

And the sons of the prophets that were at Jericho came to Elisha, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Lord will take away thy master from thy head to-day? And he answered, Yea, I know it; hold ye your peace.

And Elijah said unto him, Tarry, I pray thee, here; for the Lord hath sent me to Jordon. And he said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. And they two went on.

And fifty men of the sons of the prophets went, and stood to view afar off: and they two stood by Jordon.

And Elijah took his mantle, and wrapped it together, and smote the waters, and they were divided hither and thither, so that they two went over on dry ground.

And it came to pass, when they were gone over, that Elijah said unto Elisha, Ask what I shall do for thee before I be taken away from thee. And Elisha said, I pray thee, let a double portion of thy spirit be upon me.

And he said, Thou has asked a hard thing; nevertheless, if thou see me when I am taken from thee, it shall be so unto thee; but if not, it shall not be so.

Housing The Aged

Our country's 25 million seniors and their relatives often find their "golden age" tarnished with worries about where to live. Those families who take seriously the Scriptural mandate to care for the aged often anguish over how to balance their own and their elderly members' needs.

This problem, in fact, hits home at one time or another with nearly every family today.

Health improvements and medical advances have stretched the average lifespand, creating a national "senior boom", about one of every nine Americans currently falls into the 65-and- over bracket; older persons comprise the gastest growing segment of our society.

It's a rare family that has the foresight to plan a strategy for an aging member's relocation for in advance of the actual need.

In most cases, the matter is neglected until some new development - as minor as the loss of ability to unscrew jar lids or as major as a heart attack - brings it to the fore.

Then, add to the dilemma the following assortment of family difficulties: the second generation's varied challenges as they emerge from childhood, shear apron strings, launch careers and new lifestyles; denial of the older person's aging; worry, pushiness or negligence; unresolved family conflicts; competing responsibilities and claims on time.

Toss in the complicating factors of money, georgraphic distance, local unavailability of certain services or types of housing, lack of knowledge of what is available and you have a full-blown family crisis.

We read and hear a great deal about how our "disposable" society discards its elderly by stuffing them into institutions. But recent statistics say we are not, in general, warehousing the aged. Seventy percent of those 65 and over live in family settings - with a spouse or with other relatives. One-quarter live along. Only 5 percent reside in institutions or other types of group quarters, and many of these older residents are remarkably well-adapted and content. :Moreover, four out of five older persons live near at least one of their children and see that child often.

So, on the whole, we're not herding our aged out to pasture. That's the good news.

We can't , however, deny the flip side of the situation. Undoubtedly, many of our seniors enjoy little better than refugee status, afflicted with sub-standard housing, inadequate nutrition, poor health care, rejection, and loneliness.

The upcoming fashions will be clearly defined. There will not be one shape for all, just as it will not be one color or one length. The mainstream is wide enough to include significant variations What clearly runs through all the collections that make a strong fashion statement for the months ahead is a feeling of ease, whether it is expressed in sweaters that are generously cut or coats that can look a few sizes too big. This is as true of the leaders in fashion as it is of the designers who do moderately priced and sometimes more widely distributed collections.

The big coat, taking its cue from the man's overcoat, is clearly the point of departure The back-belted, double-breasted boy coat, for many years a stape of the college crowd, is back in force. So are the balmacaan, the trench and the polo, with its Hollywood overtones Big enough to fit over a tweed jacket, itself oversize, and a couple of sweaters, the coast usually descends almost to the ankles It is shown in tweeds, in cashmere, gabardine and various men's wear patterned worsteds

For the women who feel the big coat is too much for them, there are various styles, seven-eights lengths or shorter, that can be fashionable substitutes The fabrics are the same as those used in the longer coats, but there are some exceptions in bold, strong colors such as purple and cerise for women who want a lively accent in their fall wardrobes.

Tony Brown's Comments

Mayor Kock, I Dare You

New York Mayor Ed Koch, author of the bestseller Mayor, was so outraged over the death of David Kennedy that he urged the death penalty for drug pushers, including "the guy who sold the young David Kennedy the drugs that killed him."

Mr. Mayor, I'm very pleased that you are outraged; of course, it took a rich White boy tomove you to dead seriousness. Yes, I know that your New York cops have been running around for the past few months, posing for TV cameras and photographers, in a show-and-tell against drug pushers. However, I'm neither impressed nor convinced that they ("New York's finest") really serious about getting rid of drugs.

Naturally, if enough White people die--especially rich ones--His Honor could even conceivably shoot the pushers himself.

Everyone in the country knows that David Kennedy died a junkie --not as the dashing "David Kennedy" (and all the Kennedy clan mystiqu can conjure up). We also know that Harlem, New York was one of his favorite drug depots.

Remember, Mayor Koch, it was in your city on a rainy night four years ago that this young, rich junkie was beaten near the Shelton Plaza when he and his pusher fought over a heroin sale. The urine-soaked, filthy Shelton Plaza in harlem was infamous for its sorted clientele and drugs.

Since, and in honor of the rich White heroin addict who put it on the map, "the street people" affectionately renamed the dump "The Kennedy Arms." And "arms," as in body, is what Kennedy had in mind for his heroin.

But perhaps you haven't read in the New York papers that members of your stellar New York Police Department (NYPD), the same force that is now, ostensibly, chasing dope out of New York, created a coverup for Kennedy and "concocted a story about a phony mugging," according to the New York Post.

Actually, the paper reported: "City Hall wanted it kept quiet because Kennedy's Uncle ted might soon be President."

Where, Mr. Mayor, was your outrage then? Are you and your intelligence units aware of the section of your city that are no longer under your jurisdiction, but belong to the cutthroats and scum? Eight million New Yorkers know about the "shooting galleries" and the murder they commit.

Moreover, Mr. Mayor, they even kill White people. Yes. Some of them are even rich and famous -- like David Kennedy. Yes, they are killing them in your city -- by the droves.

In case of you can't find anyone in New York or on the NYPD who knows what I'm taking about, watch my TV program in May when I interview another famous junkie: Same Moore of the singing duo Same and Dave of the 60s. They made "Soul Man" (John Belushi's favorite) famous while earning a gold record and a fortune.

Same tells the complete, agonizing story of how he lost a no-win battle with King Heroin that not only melted his brain, but also his body from a healthy 200 lbs. down to a deadly 118 lbs. Moore's stomach turning story of his life as a junkie explains how he lost his fortune, health and fame to drugs.

And it was in Mayor Koch's Harlem that same Moore became a zombie, nearly OD-ing three times. On my program, Sam will tell the country about New York: "I started hanging uptown in Harlem in the shooting galleries. You find the lowest of the lowest in there. "You find the blood on the walls, the rats, the vomit. Guys have been sleeping in there for months at a time. They haven't taken a bath, think nothing about taking a bath, haven't eaten. Dehydrated. You take your drugs there or some of them may have some drugs there that you can buy.

"That's what a shooting gallery's all about. The stench is in there. Everybody smells awful. It doesn't matter. You forget about the smell. You'll forget about the rats that are crawling across your feet or the roaches that are crawling out of your clothes. You don't care about that. You just know you getta get that hit, to feel better."

This part should really interest the Mayor. "White kids went there in droves from Virginia, Washington, and Jersey in Gucci shoes," Moore explained. "Sometimes, they would buy from four to five hundred or maybe a thousand dollars worth or fifteen hundred dollars worth of drugs in one day. It wasn't just Blacks that were junkies. You had droves of Whites up there, also, doing the same thing. And professional people would come in from lower Manhattan and the Lower East Side from noon lunch."

Mayor Koch, you outrage is misplaced Instead of the dead, you should show outrage against the death of the living. Black as well as White. Poor as well as rich.

And speaking of your outrage, I hope that your fiery, Aries nature has enough rage left to get you red-faced livid at this column. Perhaps you, the NYPD and the wierdo judges will get off of your honorable butts and drive these killers and "shooting galleries" out of your city.

Remember when the Blacks dared you to come to Harlem? You went anyway, reminding us that you were Mayor of all of New York. Well, i dare you to go to a "Shooting Gallery."

This message is sent to you from another outraged Aries.

Colleges Challenged In High Tech. Era

America is a nation of change, and in recent years changes have come fast and hard. They are evident in new technologies, a restructuring economy, and a meaner social outlook.

The first of those trends is of special importance to our educational needs It is generally accepted that we are at the dawn of a high-tech era.

That means the future will belong to those who can work at computer terminals, be comfortable with advanced data processing and communications technologies, and have access to the techniques of an information-based economy.

This trend poses a major challenge to the education community, and especially the black colleges that graduate the majority of blacks.

It means many will have to retool. They'll have to adjust curricula to the high-tech age and provide students in all disciplines with the fundamentals of technological literacy.

And that challenge is compounded by the financial squeeze faced by most of those institutions, and by the traditional aversion to math, science and other subjects that are

PSALMS 107:1-10

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy;

And gathered them out of the lands, from the east, and from the west, from the north, and from the south.

They wandered in the wilderness in a solitary way; they found no city to dwell in.

Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them

Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses

And led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation

Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

For he satisfieth the longing soul, and fileth the hungry soul with goodness.

Such as sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron:

We welcome news of your church and civic events.

fundamental to the high tech era.

Some 600 blacks a year earn Ph. D.'s in education, but only 20 to 30 in engineering and physical sciences, and only about a half dozen in math. In 1982, only one black person got a Ph.D. in computer science.

If you look at undergraduate degrees, similar percentages obtain. Much as we need educators, social workers, and others skilled in the human and social services, the black future will be limited if we don't have our share of the skills required by a high tech society.

This is a problem that has its roots in social disadvantage, inferior public education, and lack of opportunity in elementary and high schools. Future physicists and engineers come to college with sound backgrounds in math and the sciences. But most black students have been denied the access to those backgrounds and the encouragement to succeed in those fields.

The problem is compounded by national polices that have undermined the little progress that has been made toward greater equity.

Those national policies are widening the gap between black and whites, rich and poor. the 1985 budget plans to make more cuts in education aid. The official response to the calls for excellence has been school prayer, rhetoric about discipline, and tutition tax credits that would undermmine public education.

Higher education funding for minority and low income students has already been slashed deeply. The TRIO programs that helped disadvantaged young people make it in college have been a prime target for the budget cutters.

And the Department of Education's proposed restriction son grants and loans to students will inevitable force many black people to abandon their hopes for higher education.

A special target of the enemies of equal opportunity in higher education have been the programs that provide financial assistance to graduate and professional education. And assistance to struggling black colleges has been confined to lip service as the resources made available to them are nowhere near proportionate to the needs.

An educational system can turn out more scientists and engineers than GM does cars.

But if they are drawn from a favored elite while the rest of our students are doomed to semi-literacy, the system itself is far from excellent. In fact, it is a failure.

Equity is not an issue that can be sidestepped. For blacks, it is the central issue equal access to quality education is the prime issue on the black education agendy.

But in 1984 I believe it has to be at the core of national educational policy as well.

Open Letter To High School Graduates

On behalf of the Pierce County Task Force on Alcohol and Driving, we would like to express our congratulations to Pierce County's successful high school graduates.

Whether your plan after graduation is to attend a college or vocational school or to enter the work force, your contribution as a citizen of Pierce County is an important one You are a valuable resource. From your ranks will come the leaders and citizens of tomorrow Your talent, innovation and ideas are essential for the continued growth and development of Pierce County.

With your graduation, you are entering a new era in your life Your attitudes and decisions early in this phase of your life will determine your stature as a person and as a citizen.

One of the overwhelming problems confronting our community is the abuse of alcohol coupled wih the operation of a motor vehicle If you drink, don't drive Don't get into a vehicle whose driver has been drinking If you know you are sober, offer to drive for that individual who is not You may save the life of a friend or yourself

We genuinely care about you. You are the hope of tomorrow for the city, the county, the state, and the nation We need you here and healthy

Happy Graduation!

HOW THE WEST IS WON

STRIKE IT RICH WITH THE NEW WASHINGTON STATE LOTTERY INSTANT GAME BONANZA!

Double your fortune with the Lucky Horseshoe and win up to $10,000 instantly.
Just scratch two like amounts and a Lucky Horseshoe and you'll Double your winnings! For example, if you scratch $5,000, another $5,000 and a Lucky Horseshoe, you've won a double amount—$10,000.

Spell BONANZA and win a $50,000 Bonus Prize.
The stub of each ticket gives you still another way to strike it rich. Just scratch the latex spot and start collecting the letters. When you have all the letters to spell out BONANZA, hit the trail to the Lottery Headquarters in Olympia and you can stake your claim on $50,000.

Win the Grand Prize of $1,000 a week for life.
Every time you strike it rich with $25 or $50, you're automatically entered into the Grand Prize Drawing for a prize of $1,000 a week for life! With a guaranteed minimum of $1,000,000. And it's easy to enter. Just check the back of your Bonanza ticket for details. What a way to ride off into the sunset.

Cash in on more Prizes than ever before.
There are more ways than ever to strike a Bonanza. With up to $15,000,000 in instant cash winnings! $50,000, $10,000, $5,000, $1,000, $500, $50, $25, $10, $5, $4, $2 and free tickets—it'll all be given away. Hurry and stake your claim on a Bonanza ticket. Buy one today and avoid the stampede.

"Buy a lottery ticket for yourself and one for your horse."

"Don't ride into the sunset without a chance to win $1000 a week, for life."

State Lottery prizes are not exempt from Federal Income Tax. You must be 18 or older to buy these Lottery tickets. Players are subject to Washington State laws, rules and regulations.

Bonanza, Strike It Rich

Similar to the stop selling "Washington Doubler" game of January 1983, "Bonanza" players can double their winnings by scratching the "Bonanza" ticket to reveal two matching dollar amounts plus a horseshoe symbol.

Cash prizes range from a free ticket to $10,000 instantly. There are twelve different instant prizes to win. Additionally, a new bonus feature allows players to win $50,000 by collecting Bonus Stubs to spell B-O-N-A-N-Z-A. Players should submit their BOnus Stubs spelling B-O-N-A-N-Z-A along with a completed Winner's Claim Form (available at Lottery sales agent locations) to: Washington State Lottery, Post Office Box 9780, Olympia, WA 98504

All claimed "Bonanza" tickets winning a $25 or $50 prize are automatic entries for the "Bonanza" Grand Prize Drawing, scheduled to be held at the conclusion of the "Bonanza" game. All $25 and $50 winning "Bonanza" tickets must be claimed within fourteen days after the annouced end of the "Bonanza" game to be eligible to participate in the finalist selection process for the "Bonanza" Grand Prize Drawing.

Ten finalists will be selected to participate in the "Bonanza" Grand Prize Drawing, which features prizes ranging from $10,000 cash to the Grand Prize of $1,000-a-week-for life (minimum of $1,000,000 guaranteed to the winner of or the winner's estate, paid at $1,000 per week, starting at age 18)

Small Business Means JOBS

Small businesses are putting America to work.
Since 1980, nearly all of the new jobs in this country—more than 2.5 million—have been created by small firms. Healthy, growing small businesses will mean even more jobs for a working America, and a brighter economic future for this country.
So to the butcher, the baker, and the floppy disc maker, we say, "Good for you, small business... you're doing a great job for us all!"
